

ADVERTISEMENT

System to help robots move seamlessly in buildings, tested at three sites | Video

28 May 2022 11:44pm

As part of a national plan to maximise the power of automation, robots that can operate more independently are being tested at three sites. The machines are able to communicate with smart infrastructure, making movement much more seamless. Rebecca Metteo tells us more.

ADVERTISEMENT

You May Also Like

Singapore Briefings held to remind NDP participants of safety, medical protocols: MINDEF

12 hours ago

Singapore

2 Singaporeans arrested in Thailand for suspected human trafficking, money laundering | Video

4 days ago

Watch

Addicted - The Cannabis Trap

28 days ago

Watch

Insight 2025/2026 - Southeast Asia's Scam Empire

4 days ago

Watch

On The Red Dot: Finding Lost Recipes - Hong Ling's Mum's Thai Laksa

a day ago

ADVERTISEMENT

Popular Shows

US STRIKES IRAN NUCLEAR SITES

TÜRKIYE FOREIGN MINISTRY

Watch

Singapore Tonight - Sun 22 Jun 2025

11 hours ago • 22 mins

Singapore

Basic dialect classes for migrant domestic workers to better care for the elderly

12 hours ago • 3 mins

Singapore

Authorities in contact with Singapore students in Middle East

12 hours ago • 1 mins

Singapore

Local art galleries see up to three times growth in sales compared with last year

12 hours ago • 3 mins

Singapore

Briefing on safety and medical protocols for NDP 2025

12 hours ago

CNA Sections

- Asia

Business

TODAY

Luxury

Newsletters

Interactives

Sport

Special Reports
- Singapore

Insider

Lifestyle

CNA938 Live

Commentary

Live TV

World

About CNA

- About Us

Contact Us

Presenters
- Advertise With Us

Correspondents

Mediacorp Network

Follow our news

